Em Em Earl Nelson, his father Ted, Herb Jameson, and Bob Dougherty founded Nelson-Jameson as a dairy equipment and supplies business in Toluca, Illinois. Their goal was to serve as a comprehensive resource for dairy plants, but they soon discovered that their location in Illinois was not appropriate. So Ted and Herb studied dairy production maps and relocated the business to Marshfield, Wisconsin - the heart of dairy production. Shortly thereafter, Jameson left Nelson-Jameson to pursue other business options, leaving the company in the hands of Earl and Ted Nelson. Nelson-Jameson is now run by the third and fourth generation of the Nelson family, and has added distribution centers in California, Idaho, Pennsylvania and Texas, as well as a sales office in Illinois, to meet the needs of their markets. Over the years, Nelson-Jameson has expanded its product offerings to meet the needs of food, dairy and beverage plants—becoming the supplier of choice in all 50 states as well as in many foreign countries.
